

WOODSTOCK, VIRGINIA.

FRIDAY MARCH 13, 1908.

Since the Luray convention, it is hard to find a republican in all Shenandoah county who does not believe in minority representation.

BYRD LIQUOR LAW PASSED BY THE LEGISLATURE

The following is a synopsis of the new liquor law just passed by the Legislature:

Retail liquor license cannot be granted in country districts or in towns of less than 500 inhabitants, based upon the last preceding United States census, unless the community be within a county contiguous to a city having police protection paid for by the public, and where license has been granted during the twelve months prior to the date of the passage of this act, or unless it be to a hotel or a social club at a health resort having a natural mineral spring connected therewith, or situated by the sea, or any large body of salt water connected therewith. This means prohibition for the country districts and all towns under 500 inhabitants, with the exception noted above.

No social club can dispense liquor in territory where retail liquor license cannot be granted, nor on Christmas day, election days or on Sunday. All social clubs shall execute a bond with security of $5,000, which bond shall be forfeited if the law is violated. This legislation will destroy the "fake" social club and prohibit the sale of liquor anywhere and under any conditions on Sunday.

No liquor license can be granted to any person except a qualified voter of the county or city in which the business is to be conducted, except in cases of persons who at present hold such license, and in such cases the person desiring license must be a qualified voter in the State. This provision absolutely prohibits the granting of license to women, temporary sojourners and foreigners not qualified to vote.

The small country distilleries are brought under the provisions of the Mann law, that is to say the small distillers in the country districts must show to the court that a majority of the qualified voters of the district or town are in favor of the application; that there is adequate police protection, and that the establishment of said distillery will not be contrary to sound public policy or injurious to the moral or material interests of the community. The new law prohibits the sale of liquor in any quantity at any school, college or university, or to any intoxicated person, or to a lunatic, epileptic or habitual drunkard, where the saloonkeeper knows the sale to be such. It also forbids the sale of ardent spirits between midnight and 5 a. m. It prohibits the employment of women or minors in any capacity in any saloon. It prohibits the drinking of ardent spirits on a passenger train, except by special permission from the conductor. It prohibits the delivery of liquor by railroad, steamboat or express companies, except to the person to whom it is addressed, or to his employee, upon his written order. It prohibits the managers or employees of dispensaries to deliver ardent spirits to any person outside of the village, town or city in which the dispensary is located.

Important provisions were added to aid in the enforcement of the law. First, the penalties for the violation of the law were made more severe. For the first offense, in addition to a fine, the jail sentence may be added in the discretion of the court, and the offender is required to give bond for 12 months, with approved security, in the penalty of $500. For the second offense the offender is fined and imprisoned, and his bond is forfeited, and he is required to give bond for $1,000.

The new law provides that a search warrant may be issued to search places where it is a matter of common knowledge that liquor is illegally sold and it more than two gallons of ardent spirits are found this fact shall be admitted as evidence in the trial of the party accused of illicit sale.

The new law declares that all places where ardent spirits are manufactured or sold illegally shall be declared to be common nuisances, and provide for abating the same by injunction proceedings, and penalties for violating the injunction.

No cider that will produce intoxication can be sold at retail in "dry territory" except by the farmer growing the fruit from which the cider is made and the farmer himself cannot sell any cider that contains more than six per cent of alcohol in "dry territory." In "wet territory" cider which is the pure juice of the apple, without any addition of anything except preservatives, not prohibited by the United States law, can be sold without a retail liquor license. Cider can be sold in "dry territory" to licensed distillers for purposes of distillation.

A severe cold that may develop into pneumonia over night, can be cured quickly by taking Foley's Honey and Tar. It will cure the most obstinate, racking cough and strengthen your lungs. The genuine is in a yellow package. Walton & Smoot.

Republicans Nominate Mr. Pritchard for Congress.

The Seventh District Congressional Convention met in Luray, Wednesday. The Shenandoah Delegation had the opportunity of viewing the result of refusing minority representation, from the under side. The Convention ignored them and gave them no opportunity to present their side of the question. The delegates from Winchester who were with the Shenandoah delegation were refused seats and the Convention would not permit Mr. Hutcheson, of this county, even to present a minority report. The convention nominated C. L. Pritchard, of Warren for Congress, John Acker, of Rockingham and C. M. Gibbons, of Winchester delegates to the National Convention; C. M. Gibbons, Executive committeeman. W. A. Herron, of Rockingham; T. J. Berry, of Page; W. B. Gentry, of Greene; C. L. Pritchard, of Warren, and M. S. Bowman, of Madison on the State Committee. L. Harper Zirkle, of Shenandoah, Chairman of Congressional Committee, and E. Dulany Ott, of Harrisonburg, Elector.

The resolutions express their allegiance to the republican party; endorse Roosevelt's administration, deplore the loss of Hon. Campbell Slemm, congratulate Hon. C. Bascom Slemm, as successor to his father, approve the policy of President Roosevelt in having competent referees in each Congressional district, express appreciation of the services of State Chairman Slemm, endorse C. Bascom Slemm and Col. S. Brown Allen as two of the delegates at large to the Chicago Convention.

All the work of the Convention was done in forty minutes. The majority saw no necessity of talking on their side, and would not let the minority talk. The work was evidently cut and dry before hand, and minority representation had no more chance than an old bachelor in a Woman's Rights meeting.

IN THE VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

There are to be no more hangings in Virginia. The general assembly has passed a bill which provides that all persons condemned to death shall be removed to the state penitentiary in Richmond within fifteen days preceding their execution and confined in the prison. In case the courts or the governor interfere with the sentences of the trial courts the writs are to be served on the superintendent of the prison, the condemned persons to remain in the walls of the penitentiary till the case is disposed of.

The new law carries an appropriation for installing the electric chair and for building of the death chamber. Hangings in this state have ranged all the way from $10,000. There was some opposition to the bill on the ground that when men are executed for "the usual crime" the infliction of the death penalty should be in the neighborhood of the crime.

The state is to pension its school teachers in the future. The amount to be paid to each will not be very great, it is true, but it is a step in the direction of recognizing the work of a hard-working conscientious and poorly paid body of men and women. The bill appropriates $5,000 a year as the nucleus for a fund, no teacher is to become a beneficiary who has not taught at least twenty-five years, and no teacher who marries is to be allowed to participate. No exception is made of the colored teachers, and they are to be assessed to pay their part to the fund regardless of the length of terms of their schools.

The general assembly will proceed to try Judge Blackstone March 25. It has been decided to extend the session for thirty days from March 8; to take a recess from March 12 to March 25. The members will thus return to the city at that time and proceed with the hearing of the case, and there is to be no extra session of that body. The members will receive nothing except their traveling expenses for the second trip to Richmond. Had an extra session been called it would have meant $250 for each member and an outlay for printing and reporting that would have brought the total up to at least $50,000. Judge Blackstone is ill in Richmond, and when asked regarding the revived report that he would resign and escape the odium of removal he said emphatically that he will fight to the end. He is to be tried on charges of gross immorality and neglect of official duties. He declares that if he is removed he will stand for the general assembly two years from now and that he will be elected.

Gov. Swanson has given out a statement in which he repeats his former utterance that the people of the state shall elect the members of the state corporation commission. Some months ago he said the same thing, and a bill to this end had passed the senate twice. It was defeated in the house, but it is again before that body. The governor says that because of the powers vested in the members of that body it is but right and proper that they should be elected by the people, to whom they are directly responsible. This will prevent the repetition of any such affair as that which engaged the attention of the legislature and which is to be used as political capital by the two political parties in the coming campaign.
